Asbestos anguish

Family of five forced out of council home THREE YEARS after being told it was safe

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsexnews.co.uk

A FAMILY of five has been forced to leave their home and move into a hotel after asbestos was found in their council house - three years after they were told it had been given the all clear.

Steven (37) and Cindy Fry (34) and their three children have been living in a hotel for the past three weeks after routine maintenance work on their home in Freshwaters, Harlow, uncovered asbestos in the living room.

Mr Fry said: "This has taken a real toll on the whole family. My two youngest are stressed and very upset by the whole thing and it's a strain for everyone.

"When we first moved in, my wife and I raised our concerns about the house as we believed there were a few issues that were overlooked and not dealt with properly.

"But the council assured us that the house was safe and that the checks had been done. Three years down the line we've been told we have to get out and leave everything behind.

"It's a horrible situation. We have regular contact with a liaison officer, but she isn't very much help as there's not much she can tell us that we don't already know."

The family are currently sharing two bedrooms in the hotel. "It's hard because my daughter is 17 and she has to share with the boys, who are five and eight," said Mr Fry. "They are finding it very hard to cope with the change."

He added: "We do feel that this is a problem that could have been avoided; it's not like a flood or a fire where nobody is to blame. We really feel the council ignored our concerns and should have had more extensive checks to make sure the property was safe."

Cllr Rod Truan, Harlow Council's cabinet portfolio holder for housing, told the Star: "Whilst routine maintenance was being carried out some asbestos fibres were released which have been analysed by an independent expert as a low level release.

"The matter has been reported to the Health & Safety Executive by the tenant. Housing officers have been in regular contact with the family about their situation and they were placed in temporary accommodation on the day of the incident.

"Alternative permanent accommodation was offered the next day but turned down by the family as they wish to move back to their home in Freshwaters.

"We are awaiting feedback from the Health & Safety Executive before we can carry out any work to the property. After work has been completed the family will then be able to move back. We will continue to keep them up to date."

This week the Health & Safety Executive confirmed it was carrying out an investigation into the property.

A spokeswoman said: We are aware of the situation at a Freshwaters property and an investigation is currently under way. We are in contact with the parties involved."

Shortly before the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday), a Harlow Council spokesman said-work was now underway to enable the Fry family to move back into their property.

"The council continues to provide support to them while the work takes place," he added.

Trust to invest in new ambulances

THE East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust has confirmed it will invest nearly £17m on new emergency vehicles.

EEAST will be spending an estimated £14m on 145 new ambulances, while the service's response car fleet will receive a £2.3m funding boost.

The vehicles will be rolled out across the region over the next year as part of a new vehicle replacement programme.

Paul Henry, EEAST's Associate Director of Operations Support, said: "The board approved the programme to replace older vehicles and support our work on ambulance capacity, and it was agreed that an additional 25 new ambulances over and above the standard replacement programme would be brought into service.

"Our fleet team is currently completing the procurement process that will anticipate that 50 of the new ambulances will be in service before this Christmas."

Harlow currently has one ambulance to support the town and neighbouring areas. EEAST has been criticised for long delays with a whistle-blower recently admitting EEAST is not delivering its services well enough.

PAH praised for C-diff fightback

PRINCESS Alexandra Hospital has one of the lowest rates of C-diff infection in the country, according to new statistics released by the NHS Trust Development Authority.

The PAH NHS Trust has been ranked seventh out of 159 Trusts across the UK, having recorded just 16 incidences of the highly infectious bug between March 2012 and March 2013. Consultant Microbiologist Dr Shico Visuvanathan, the Trust's head of infection control, said: "Our staff have worked tirelessly to help rid this debilitating infection from our hospital. It has been an impressive effort by all departments and all grades of staff and has meant we have been able to consistently control this bug."

Dr Nancy Fontaine, executive director lead for infection prevention and control, said that keeping the strong focus on infection control now remained a Trust and staff priority. "Maintaining the highest possible infection prevention and control standards for patients is our priority and continued focus and improvement on hand washing, environmental cleanliness and dress code are all essential factors."

UNFAIR: Harlow MP Robert Halfon, left, claims Tesco have treated staff "unfairly"

New pay deal for Tesco employees

TESCO depot staff locked in a bitter pay dispute with management over their enforced move to a new distribution centre in Dagenham are poised to accept a compromise deal with the supermarket giant.

Despite recently balloting for strike action, workers' union USDAW has advised its members to accept a new offer that will see their current rate of pay frozen for two years.

After this point, their wages will be moved onto a "sliding scale" based on local market conditions - meaning their take-home salaries could still be cut in the long-term.

Tesco had originally planned to shift all 800 employees to its new distribution facility on reduced pay following the closure of the Harlow site in August this year.

USDAW divisional counsellor Phil Waite told the Star: "We have been meeting with Tesco

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk and are now recommending that our members accept Tesco's offer. This is due to the closure of the Harlow site not being far off and the time we have before then.

"The new offer to our membership is a protection of pay for two years and after that, wages will move onto a sliding scale.

"It is a compromise but it's better than what Tesco have offered employees' previously."

A Tesco spokesman said the firm was "pleased" to have reached agreement with the union.

"We are very pleased for all parties that an agreement has been reached with USDAW representatives, and that subject to a member vote, this matter is now resolved," he said.

But Harlow MP Robert Halfon - who highlighted Tesco's

"unfair treatment" of its workers in a House of Commons debate on Friday - told the Star he still had "serious reservations" about the way the transfer was being handled by the supermarket chain.

"I welcome the efforts made by USDAW in helping Tesco workers and that agreement has been reached.

"However, as I said in the House of Commons, it remains the case that many workers will be worse off if they move to Dagenham. If they are doing the same job, they should get the same wage.

"I have also highlighted the plight faced by disabled workers. It is morally wrong that disabled people are not being given the same adjustments if they move to Dagenham. If Tesco is to heal our community, they need to treat fairly the disabled workers who have given their lives to the company."

SIR, I always doubted the relevance of a crime commissioner from its conception and wondered what good it would do to policing.
Nick Alston and the other candidates for the role were a mystery with no electoral information readily available about any of them.
We now have an elected highly paid commissioner who has increased costs with what appears little return. He asked for and was given an increase to policing budget, he employs what he terms the best police chief paying him a healthy salary and now wants an assistant increasing cost further.
All this comes at a time when government is reducing policing budgets and cutting resources to the bone.
Why oh why if we have a top cop in charge do we need a crime commissioner, let alone an assistant. The service has sergeants, inspectors, chief inspectors, commanders and superintendents controlling constables with the help of civilian staff. Do they really need Nick Alston?

Debunking some of the myths of the 1970s

SIR, I was not only around during Margaret Thatcher's time and the preceding Labour years, I also remember 1945-1951 under Clement Attlee (Letters, May 2).
Of course the 1970s were difficult times but a balanced account would be nearer to Gary Roberts' version than Michael Hardware's. There are a number of myths that need to be refuted.
Although I do not have the reference to hand, I believe Denis Healey later said he was wrong to have succumbed to the IMF's demands; its cure was worse than the disease as, indeed, its promotion to this day of neo-liberal economic, which caused the global financial breakdown in 2008, continues to be.
Then there is the myth of union power holding the country to ransom. Strange that it never seems to be recognised that there are two sides in industry and two sides to every dispute. In fact, when workers take industrial action it is almost invariably reactive and never undertaken lightly, despite the impression given by the right-wing media.
Between 1975 and 1978 real wages had been reduced by 13 per cent and a strong reaction was not surprising. But trade union power has never been comparable with that of employers, as anyone who has ever been made redundant can testify.
Mrs Thatcher came to power on the slogan "Labour's not working", with unemployment at the horrific total of a million. Her policies, including a rise in VAT which she had specifically excluded, almost immediately increased that number to over three million on official figures, probably

Do we really need a police commissioner?

PHOTO OF THE WEEK

THIS picture was sent in by reader Anne Small, of Peshurst, Old Harlow, who writes: "I live in a house overlooking East Park and I was lucky enough to hear this female green woodpecker calling loudly. "She stayed long enough for me to take lots of photographs of her from my bedroom window. We have had many visits from lesser spotted woodpeckers but this is the first time I have seen a green woodpecker." If you have a photo taken in Harlow you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section, we would love to see it. Email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. make a complaint to the Office of the Traffic Commissioner based in Cambridge.
A complaint would be taken very seriously and could result in the bus operator coming under scrutiny.

Labour's U-turn over council cabinet system

SIR, At last month's Harlow Labour Group meeting it was decided to keep the leader and cabinet system, despite promising to revert to the committee system prior to the district council elections in May 2012.
They even gave the statutory one year's notice last June to change the council constitution.
The reasoning behind this is that the cabinet can make unpalatable decisions without the group's consent, just as they did with the closure of the welfare rights and advice service.
The decision to keep the leader and cabinet system was not even discussed at Harlow Labour's GC/All Member meeting, unlike prior to last May's district elections.
Special allowances may also have been a factor: a cabinet portfolio allowance is £3,000 whereas a committee chair allowance is £1,500. So it seems there were 1,500 reasons to keep the leader and cabinet system!
This U-turn demonstrates that Labour's election promises have a short sell-by date.

David Forman
secretary, Harlow Trades Council

So for Mr Slater to know for sure what the police were doing is quite a presumption.

Summer's here and so are the bonfire pests

SIR, Once again it is the same old story of a nice, warm day and the inconsiderate morons who insist on celebrating the beautiful weather by treating all their neighbours to the toxic fumes of their bonfires.
Some years ago this was made illegal under the Clean Air Act but, of course, nobody takes any notice of rules and regulations, opting instead to do just exactly what they want to do and to pot with everyone else!

Len Fleming.
Potter Street, Harlow

Report bus company to traffic commissioner

SIR, I read in last week's Star the letter from one of your readers about a bus driver using a mobile telephone whilst driving.
Your correspondent is quite right in saying this poses a serious risk to road safety, with mobile phone use being one of the four major contributory factors to fatal road traffic collisions.
I would urge your correspondent to nearer four in actuality.

The downgrading of manufacturing industry in favour of financial services, which regrettably was not reversed during the Blair/Brown years, has a great deal to do with present economic woes. And a large part of today's dire housing situation can be attributed to the sale of council houses.
There is much more that could be said but space does not permit.

Frank Jackson
Kingsmoor Lane, Harlow

Police presence helps to deter shoplifters

SIR, It's a shame Mike Slater didn't turn his camera on to the disabled bays at Tesco as he might have noticed the amount of vehicles parked in these spaces not displaying a blue badge (Letters, May 9).
As a disabled driver myself I find it quite annoying having to pass the bays because of inconsiderate people parking in these spaces. If you point out that they should not park there you are met with a volley of verbal abuse, mostly from young woman with kids.
My son works for the police in outer London and sometimes they park outside shops at the request of shop managers or security staff to discuss any problems. They are also encouraged to walk around the shop to deter shoplifters.

ESSEX County Council is a step closer to starting work on upgrading the county's superfast broadband network.

The Essex BDUK Project has now been given the green light by Government to issue tender documents and been told that the State Aid area where public funds can be spent has been given provisional approval.

The Superfast Essex Programme has also achieved a milestone in receiving more than 10,000 responses to its Make the Connection broadband survey.

Warning over fuel oil thefts

POLICE in West Essex have warned householders with oil-fired central heating to be on their guard after a spate of fuel thefts.

About £6,000 worth of oil has been stolen from storage tanks, in a total of 12 thefts from homes in rural areas - a number in the Epping Forest area - since the beginning of March.

Anyone with information about the thefts should contact Epping police on 101.

Trio arrested after burglary

THREE men have been arrested by police investigating a burglary in Harlow.

A property in Spinning Wheel Mead was broken into shortly before 10.15pm last Wednesday.

The suspects aged 24, 25 and 34 have been released on police bail until June 14.

Dentist in training for 100-mile charity cycle

SADDLING UP: Martin Perry

A DENTIST working at a practice in Harlow will be following in the tyre tracks of Olympic hero Bradley Wiggins when he takes part in the British Heart Foundation's inaugural Ride London 100.

Martin Perry will be one of 20,000 cyclists in the event on August 4, which follows a similar route to the road races held during last summer's London 2012 Games.

"I'm really looking forward to taking part," said Martin (46), who lives in Cambridge Road, Sawbridgeworth, and works at the Addison House dental practice in Hamstel Road.

"This is the first time this amazing event has been arranged. It involves a 100-mile ride from the Olympic Park out to the Surrey Hills and finishing on the Mall. It follows a very similar route to last year's Olympic cycle races and really is a unique opportunity to imagine you are Wiggo for the day!

"I set out to do this ride more as a personal target. I'm no runner, just an average middle-aged bloke, and this is as close as you can get to the London Marathon without actually running."

Martin has been training for the past six months. He is being supported by his GP wife Jane and seven-year-old twin daughters Charlotte and Georgianna.

"Raising funds for the BHF is especially important to me because I see the consequences of heart disease every day in my job as a dentist and would love to help reduce the suffering heart disease causes," he said. "I would like to encourage people to sponsor me and support my fund-raising - let's beat heart disease together."

Martin hopes to complete the ride in about seven hours but said that with a bit more training he may be able to make it in six-and-a-half!

Best of business on show at expo

THE region's biggest business networking event returns to Harlow in less than a month - and organisers are urging local firms to get involved.

Now in its fourth year, Harlow Business Exhibition has gone from strength to strength since its launch in 2009 and will this year accommodate more exhibitors than ever before.

More than 130 local and national firms are expected to set up stall at Harlow Leisurezone on June 11, while organisers hope the show will attract more than 700 visitors.

Co-organiser Ian Hudson, general manager of Harlow & District Chamber of Commerce, told the Star it was not too late to get involved.

"We've sold almost 120 of the 131 stands available, so there is still limited availability for local firms wanting to take part," he said.

"This is the region's premier networking event, and we're hoping to bring together as many local companies as possible to help create new contacts, promote new business and boost the local economy." The day will also feature live entertainment and a packed programme of business-boosting seminars, including a keynote address from Sawbridgeworth-based BBC Masterchef semi-finalist Saira Hamilton.

"We're delighted Saira has agreed to give the keynote talk," said Mr Hudson. "It will be interesting to hear what she has now got planned for the future."

Some of the businesses attending this year's event - which is co-sponsored by the Star - include ABC Cabs, Daniel Robinson & Sons, Attwaters Jameson Hill Solicitors, Harlow College, Natwest and Bailey Book-Keeping.

"We've got a huge range of businesses exhibiting at this year's event," Mr Hudson added. "Many of them have returned year after year because they have got so much out of the exhibition in the past."

"It's the ideal platform for any local firm to promote their business, forge new contacts and attract new customers."

For more information on the event, or to book one of the last remaining stands at £295 + VAT, log on to www.harlow-businessexhibition.co.uk or call (01279) 775953.

Efit image of necklace theft suspect

POLICE investigating a mugging in which a pensioner had a gold necklace ripped from around her neck as she walking along a Harlow street have released an efit image of a man they want to question.

The 65-year-old victim was heading along Lane End heading towards the roundabout near the junction with Elwood at Church Langley when she was approached by two men. One of them distracted her while the other grabbed the necklace.

She was then pushed to the pavement and the pair ran off in the direction of the water tower, leaving her sitting dazed on the ground.

The robbery took place shortly after 4pm on Thursday, May 2.

Police are hoping to trace two good Samaritans who helped the victim after the robbery.

Detective Constable Laura Cuthbert, of Harlow police, said: "Our enquiries have revealed that two passers-by came to the aid of the woman and called police but sadly they left before we arrived."

"The number

10 bus also passed by the scene as the robbery was taking place so we potentially have several other key individuals who can help us identify these two men.

"We would urge them to come forward as we would to anyone who saw these two young men loitering in the area on that Thursday afternoon."

The men are described as white, in their late teens or early 20s and were both wearing blue hoodies.

Anyone who recognises the man in the efit or has any information about the robbery should contact detectives at Harlow police station on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Pat's planning all the fun of the fayre

A CIRCUS skills workshop and a chance to be photographed with birds of prey are two of the attractions at a May fayre taking place on Saturday in aid of St Clare Hospice.

The event is being organised by Pat Prior, of Morningtons, Harlow, who has been holding a fayre for the past four years and has been a supporter of St Clare since it cared for her late husband Bill 10 years ago.

Pat, pictured right, who is hoping to raise £1,000 on the day, said: "I knew about hospice care, and I knew where St Clare was, but until I was personally affected I had no idea what wonderful things the hospice did."

"It is not only a place to die but a place to live. They were so good to me and my daughter, Debbie, as well as Bill."

"I worked for Great Ormond Street a little while ago and have always done some form of fundraising but decided to focus on St Clare after they helped me and my family so much."

As well as the circus skills sessions and Harlow Falconry displays there will be a tombola and traditional plant, wooden toy and cake stalls.

"My daughter and I both bake and I'll be running the cake stall at the fayre," said Pat.

Naomi Hogg, one of St Clare's community fundraisers, said: "Like many of our supporters, Pat does so many things for us, not only the May fayre but providing refreshment stalls at lots of our events as well as selling jams and cakes. It's great to have the chance to thank her publicly for all she does for St Clare."

The fayre takes place at the hospice in Hastingwood from 11am-3pm. Entry costs £1 for adults and 50p for children and senior citizens.

Information on services for the visually impaired, blind and their carers will also be available at the event.

Celebrating the swinging sixties

A CELEBRATION of the swinging '60s is being held this weekend in aid of the breast cancer unit at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital and St Margaret's Hospital at Epping.

The fundraiser, which will be held at the Stansted Hilton Hotel on Saturday, includes a three-course buffet dinner, a raffle and entertainment from a Beatles tribute band. Former radio DJ Emperor Rosko has compiled a unique CD especially for the event.

An auction will also take place during the evening with lots including a sparkly jacket and shoes designed and signed by 1960s supermodel Twiggy.

Tickets cost £45 per person and include a half a bottle of champagne. To buy tickets contact Marie Shaw on 07974 778813.

Start knitting to raise charity cash

KEEN knitters in Harlow are being asked to join a charity challenge to raise money for the Cystic Fibrosis Trust.

Darren's leap of faith to highlight his rare disease

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

A MAN suffering from a rare disease is taking to the skies for a tandem parachute in order to raise awareness of the condition and help fund research.

Darren Taylor (42), of Parsonage Leys, Harlow, was first diagnosed with Durcum's Disease eight years ago.

"When I first got diagnosed it was really hard because nobody really knew what to do," he said.

"After four years I decided to take matters into my own hands and spent 18 months researching the disease. I now have my own pack with a leaflet and programme that explains what Durcum's is and I hand that to all medical professionals I come across."

"I've had lots of doctors and nurses who have told me they had never heard of Durcum's but who have read my pack and now recognise what the disease is."

Only 24 people in the UK have been diagnosed with the rare condition, which is characterised by the sporadic appearance of multiple lipomas or benign tumours.

NEW HEIGHTS: Darren is hoping his parachute jump in June will help raise awareness of the rare disease and some funds for research into the illness

"It's a painful, hard disease but it helps when doctors can recognise what's going on," said Darren, who added that only one doctor in America specialises in the illness.

Darren, who has been diagnosed with at least 12 more illnesses since he was told he had Durcum's, said: "Dr Hirst has been a big help and I would love to aid her research.

"Durcum's ruined my confidence and I want to raise awareness so anyone who is diagnosed doesn't have to feel so alone or lack confidence like I did."

"I hope the parachute jump next month will help raise awareness of Durcum's."

Labour MPs in Harlow to talk business

TWO Labour MPs spoke to local businesses owners and answered questions on the party's plans for small firms during a visit to Harlow.

Toby Perkins, shadow minister for small and medium enterprise, joined Harlow Parliamentary hopeful Suzy Stride at Harlow Enterprise Hub for a meeting during which councillors and business representatives discussed support for small firms.

Ms Stride, pictured right with Mr Perkins, said: "It was great to engage in a lively discussion about what a Labour government could do to promote and encourage small businesses."

"It was fantastic to hear Toby suggest regional banks to increase lending to small businesses. I know that access to credit is often a real problem for businesses in Harlow trying to get off the ground."

Mr Perkins said: "I worked closely with Labour's small business taskforce which has looked at bold and radical solutions to this endemic problem of lending, including a series of regional banks with a mandate to support their local economies."

"I'm proud that Ed Miliband has committed the next Labour government to delivering this exciting vision, which will help boost lending to small businesses like those I met today."

On the same day Chuka Umunna, Labour's shadow business secretary, spoke to more than 100 people at a fundraising dinner held at the Indian Moments restaurant in Elizabeth Way.

Mr Umunna spoke about the importance of small businesses to the economy as well as ways of tackling long-term youth unemployment.

Question time for education minister during school tour

BIANCA CASTRO

GOVERNMENT education minister Edward Timpson went back to the classroom when he visited Harlow.

Mr Timpson, Under Secretary of State at the Department for Education, and Harlow MP Robert Halfon called in at Burnt Mill Academy where they took part in a question-and-answer session with senior staff, students and chair of governors Val Jones.

Earlier Mr Timpson and Mr Halfon visited the Young Concern Trust - a charity which offers support and counselling to children and young people affected by issues including stress, anxiety, domestic violence and abuse - at its offices in Maddox Road.

YCT is celebrating its 25th anniversary this month.

Director Robert Locke said: "We were very pleased to welcome Mr Timpson and have the opportunity to speak with him about the emotional, mental health and wellbeing services that we deliver to children and young people in Harlow and other surrounding areas."

"Over 25 years we have been able to provide support for thousands of people and we are looking forward to continuing our service provision into the future."

"Receiving such enthusiastic backing from a Government minister and our local MP, along with our friends in local schools and other agencies, will help us ensure that we can continue our work."

Mr Timpson said: "YCT is a groundbreaking project for young people and I was very pleased to be invited by Robert to understand the special work they do."

Mr Halfon added: "I was absolutely delighted that Edward came to Harlow to support the Young Concern Trust and celebrate their 25th birthday. I know he was astounded by the remarkable work the charity does for young people."

At Burnt Mill Academy, Mr Timpson was taken on a tour of the school which received an 'outstanding' rating after an Ofsted inspection last November.

Headteacher Helena Mills said: "We are so proud of our young people who never fail to impress us with the way they represent the academy."

"The way they conducted themselves with our visitors and spoke about their school is typical of the way our students behave day in, day out. They are a real credit to us, their families and the town of Harlow."

Mr Timpson said: "Visiting Burnt Mill was a pleasure. There is an ethos in the school from both staff and students which is second to none."

County looks to tackle shortage of foster carers

ESSEX County Council is hoping to recruit 100 more foster carers during the UK's biggest fostering campaign, which started on Monday.

County Hall is using Foster Care Fortnight - which runs until Sunday, May 26 - to encourage people to consider becoming carers, especially those willing to look after teenagers, children with disabilities and older siblings.

West Essex currently has a shortage of carers for children of all ages.

Numerous events will be taking place across the county, including an information evening at the Latton Bush Centre in Southern Way, Harlow, on Wednesday (May 22) at 7pm.

It will give those attending an opportunity to find out more about fostering as well as meet carers who live in the town.

The Harvey Centre will also be hosting a stand for Foster Care Fortnight from 10am-3pm on Saturday at which experienced foster carers will be available to answer questions.

Stephanie Bishop, head of fostering and adoption for Essex County Council, said: "We need more people to come forward to care for local children who, through no fault of their own, are unable to live with their families.

"If you could open your heart and your home to a local child then I'd encourage you to attend one of the Foster Care Fortnight events."

For more information on fostering call 0800 801 530 or visit www.essex.gov.uk/fostering.

New police chief tells his officers to put victims first

STAR REPORTER

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE new Chief Constable of Essex has pledged to put victims of crime at the heart of everything the force does - and intends to take a tough stance against people who carry knives in public.

Stephen Kavanagh said he expected his officers to have those who abide by the law at the forefront of their minds in dealing with everything from burglary and robbery to anti-social behaviour and speeding.

And he wants all his senior officers to spend time back on the beat to experience "grassroots policing". Every officer from the rank of chief inspector upwards will be expected to spend at least four hours every month on the shop floor with their officers.

Within days of taking over the £192,163-a-year post, Mr Kavanagh has outlined three main priorities for his officers: to reduce crime, to catch more criminals and to deliver greater levels of satisfaction for victims.

"We need to work hard particularly around the quality of service we are giving to victims when they do call us for help," he said. "We need to turn up on time, we need to give victims and witnesses quality information and we need to make sure they've got a permanent point

Prison deputy is crime tsar's second-in-command

SHAKE ON IT: Crime commissioner Nick Alston congratulates new deputy Lindsay Whitehouse

THE deputy governor of Chelmsford Prison has been confirmed as deputy police and crime commissioner for Essex.

Lindsay Whitehouse, who is also chair of the Essex Criminal Justice Board's public confidence action team, was the preferred choice of the county's police commissioner Nick Alston.

After his appointment to the £55,000-a-year role was rubber-stamped by the county's police and crime panel on Thursday, Mr Whitehouse said "I am encouraged by the potential that this new role has in bringing real scrutiny to the performance and finances of our police service and crime prevention schemes.

"My experience in public and private service has given me wide experience of dealing with new and difficult challenges. I approach the role with an aspiration to make Essex safer for us all and uphold the highest levels of integrity that the commissioner has set."

Mr Alston said: "Over the past few months I have become increasingly sure that I need a deputy to help me carry out effective scrutiny of Essex Police and to drive community crime reduction work across Essex."

of contact if they need it."

Mr Kavanagh also plans to take a tough stance on those who take the decision to carry knives in public with a warning that the presumption would be that they should be prosecuted.

He said it was important that families who are worried about their sons or daughters carrying knives work with the police and schools to tackle the problem.

"As a last resort I think they would rather have them in a police cell than have them stabbed or dead," he said. "We need the support from everybody on the importance of what knives mean to local communities and the devastated lives they leave behind.

"Knife crime has been declining in Essex over the past five years. I will endeavour to carry on reducing this crime further."

On his initiative to send senior officers back on the beat, he said: "Once a month we are getting back to the shop floor. This gives us the opportunity to meet with local officers and staff.

"We are spending time out on patrol, with custody and staff on front counters, seeing what local officers and staff are experiencing, what's going well and what they need additional support with."

Senior level meetings will now be held at police stations around the county rather than at the force's Chelmsford headquarters.

Bone-headed dino
used skull like a conker

A HEAD-butting dinosaur with a head like a conker is helping scientists piece together a more accurate picture of life 85 million years ago.

The fossilised remains of Acrotholus audeti were discovered by a team of paleontologists - scientists who specialise in the study of fossils - in Canada.

The bizarre-looking herbivore sported a thick dome of bone at the top of its skull. Researchers believe this may have been used for fighting.

Unlike most other known dinosaurs it was small, weighing about 40 kilograms and measuring the same size as a large dog. Scientists believe its discovery hints at a greater diversity of small dinosaurs than had been suspected before.

They also think it's the oldest boneheaded dinosaur ever found in North America... and possibly the world. Not much is known about smaller dinosaurs - possibly because their more delicate bones are less likely to have survived over time.

Teenager taken to court for anti-social behaviour

A TEENAGER who has been causing problems in Old Harlow for a number of years has been given a two-year anti-social behaviour order.

Blake Bishop (13) appeared at Chelmsford Youth Court on Friday when he was made the subject of the order which runs until May 2015.

The conditions of the order state that he must not enter the High Street in Old Harlow unless accompanied by an adult family member, not cause a nuisance when he is with two other boys whose identities were given to the court, to stay indoors at a named address between the hours of 10pm-7am every day and not to act in a manner likely to cause any member of the public alarm or distress.

Speaking after the hearing, PC Neil Armour of Harlow Neighbourhood Policing Team said "Essex Police will not tolerate behaviour which causes misery to the local community. This ASBO will send a strong message to other youths intending to engage in anti-social behaviour."

Break-in at newsagents

POLICE are appealing for information following an attempted burglary at a shop in Harlow.

Intruders broke into the premises of Martins in Prentice Place last Monday evening by smashing through a door and then forcing open an internal door. About £500 damage was caused but nothing was taken from the shop.

A man wearing a red hoody was seen running away from the back of the premises and getting into a red van after the security alarm sounded.

The incident took place at about 9.50pm.

Step forward and join in a walk beneath the stars

THERE are now just 50 days to go until this year's Midnight Walk in aid of St Clare Hospice - and already hundreds of people have signed up to take part.

Saturday, July 6 is the date and it promises to be another fantastic, fun-filled night in Harlow.

But behind all the laughter and cheers are many poignant stories of those taking part and the reasons why they are supporting St Clare.

One of this year's walkers is Sian Cooper (25), of Church Mill Grange, Harlow, who will be joined on the walk by her mum, Julie. Sian has already raised £350 in sponsorship and that figure is rising.

"I'm raising money for St Clare Hospice as it's a charity very close to home," she said.

"After a long battle with cancer my grandad, Nigel Cooper, was taken to St Clare for some respite care. While he was there they took excellent care of him and it made such a difference to see him healthier and happier than he'd been in a long time.

"Unfortunately I lost Gramps a few weeks later, but myself and my family will forever be grateful for all their help and support... and helping my nan care for him."

Sadly, just weeks after his death last December, Sian's grandmother June Cooper also passed away.

"It was a massive shock to us,"

HAPPY MEMORIES: Sian Cooper with her grandfather, Nigel

said Sian. "Both my grandparents supported St Clare and their work greatly and I hope to do them both proud by trying to raise as much money as possible for such a wonderful charity."

"In the process I hope it helps me deal with such a sad loss in my life."

Also taking part will be Linda Marsham, who will be walking in memory of her son and her parents.

Linda's son, Kevin, died in a motorbike accident 15 years ago while her parents both died from

Get in shape with a Zumba workout

IF you're looking for a warm-up event for the Midnight Walk, why not take part in a Zumbathon in aid of St Clare which will be held in Old Harlow this Sunday (May 19)?

The session takes place at the Norman Booth leisure centre from 2-4pm. Zumba instructor Tamara Coxall will be donating everyone's £10 admission fee to the hospice.

"Don't be put off by the two hours," said Tam. "I specialise in Zumba Gold for the active over 50s so the pace is easily adapted for everyone."

There's no need to book - if you want to take part simply turn up.

If you are taking part in this year's walk in memory of a loved one, tell us your story cancer.

Linda, of Aylets Field, Harlow, decided to take part in the event as a thank-you to the charity for the support it gave to her and her family. She will be accompanied by her friend, Barbara.

"St Clare provides a valued service and I would encourage people of any age to help the hospice, to help raise funds and to help them carry on doing such good work," said Linda.

Entry to the Midnight Walk costs £15 per person and every walker will receive a special Midnight Walk T-shirt, goody bag and a medal as they cross the finish line.

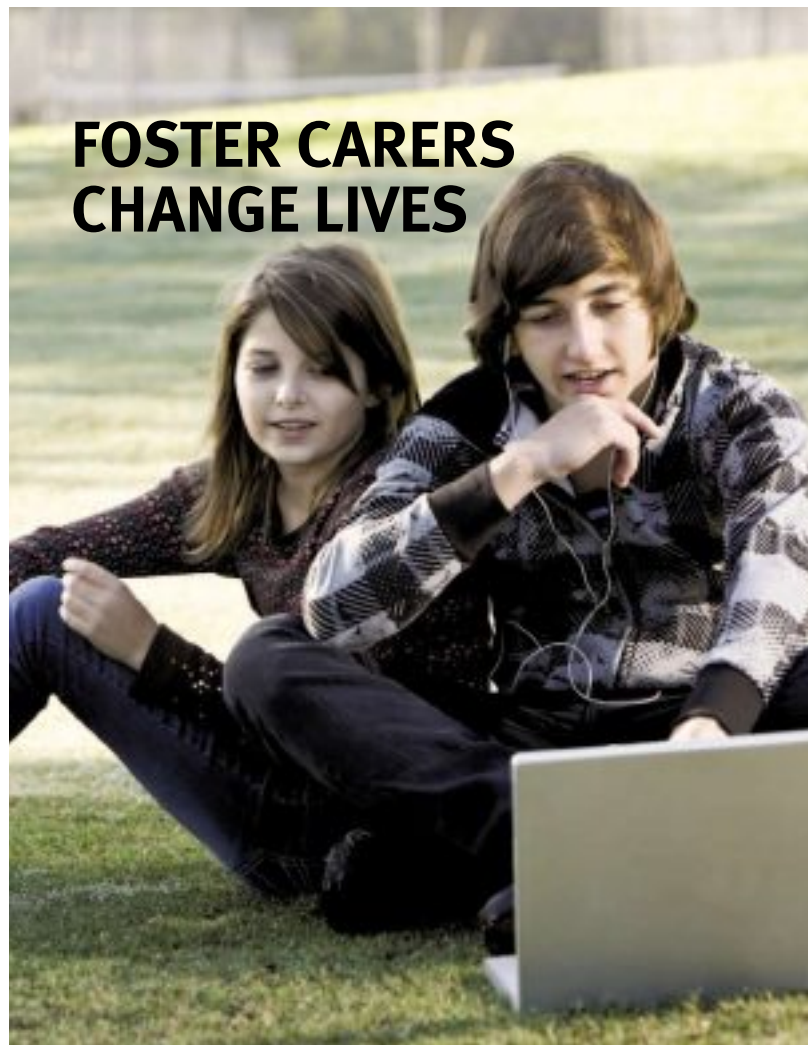

The walk, which is once again supported by the Star, will set off from the Water Gardens car park at 10.30pm. This year, for the first time, you can choose between a 10km or 5km route.

Walkers are encouraged to raise sponsorship for the hospice. Last year each walker on average raised £110, with the £67,000 sponsorship total enough to pay for 17 days of care in the inpatient unit.

MY VIEW FROM WESTMINSTER

By Robert Halfon
MP for Harlow

Three ways in which Government is helping cut the cost of living

WHENEVER I am out and about meeting local residents I am asked about the cost of living and what the Government is doing to help with it.

The Government has done three things - cut fuel duty, tried to get utility bills down and cut taxes for lower earners.

After my long campaign the Government cut fuel duty in 2011 and froze it again this year. I am now putting pressure on the Government and the Office of Fair Trading to take action against the greedy oil companies which are pushing up the price of petrol and diesel at the pumps.

On electricity and water bills, the Government is opening up the market to break the monopolies that are keeping prices high. In the last decade water bills have risen by 82 per cent but in 2010 water companies made £2bn in profits. When families are feeling the squeeze, this is a scandal.

I have also urged the Government to impose a windfall tax on these companies, the proceeds of which would be passed onto consumers.

On tax, the Government has focused on cuts for lower earners. It has taken 3,000 lower earners in Harlow out of tax altogether, while 40,000 of Harlow's low earners have seen a reduction in the amount of tax they pay. The Government has also frozen council tax, although sadly Harlow's Labour council still decided to put it up.

Meanwhile, I am glad they have taxed the rich by increasing capital gains tax from 18 per cent to 28 per cent and income tax from 40p to 45p.

Workers' plight aired in Commons debate

Many Star readers will know that I have been fighting hard for workers' rights in Parliament.

I have asked questions and tabled motions, particularly about the treatment of Tesco workers at the Flex Meadow distribution plant.

Last week I was granted a debate about Tesco workers and I raised the issue of fair pay for those transferring to Dagenham.

I know that the union USDAW is working hard to get the best deal for workers but, as I highlighted last week, I am very unhappy that disabled workers who might move to Dagenham are facing unfair obstacles. This is unacceptable and they must be treated fairly.

As well as speaking about this in the House of Commons, I have also raised this with senior Tesco management.

If any Tesco workers would like to speak to me about this issue, please contact me on halfon4harlow@roberthalfon.com or (01279) 311451.

Duchess returns to open centre's new £2.3m ARC

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ELEVEN years after her previous visit to open residential buildings, the Duchess of Gloucester returned to St Elizabeth's - the national epilepsy centre at Perry Green - on Tuesday to open a new £2.3m feature.

The 66-year-old cousin-in-law to the Queen unveiled a plaque to officially open the charity's ARC (Activities, Recreation and College) building in the heart of its 65-acre parkland site.

More than 800 staff and clients greeted the Duchess, who was officially welcomed by the Vice Lord Lieutenant of Hertfordshire, Richard Beazley. She was then given a tour of the facility by Sister Annette Clemence.

St Elizabeth's, which has fundraising shops at Bush Fair and Staple Tye in Harlow, is a national charity for children and adults with severe epilepsy and other neurological conditions. Its specialist educational, residential and medical services help people of all ages to reach their full potential in a supportive and inspiring environment.

Chief executive James Connolly said: "The ARC has given us three facilities in one. Firstly, our 1950s day centre has been replaced by the Day Opportunities wing, offering a wide range of activities to our adult clients. Secondly, we now have a sports hall for recreation and fitness activities; and, lastly, the college wing provides dedicated teaching and office facilities for our college, which was established in 2004.

"The building design meets the highest Disability Discrimination Act standards. Rainwater harvesting and a high insulation rating ensure the building also achieves good environmental standards.

"Most importantly, this new facility means we can offer more places to adults attending our Day Opportunities programme or young adults attending St Elizabeth's College's three-year learning programme."

Sister Annette Clemence said: "It was a pleasure to meet her Royal Highness. She was genuinely interested in learning about the services St Elizabeth's has been providing for 110 years to children and adults with severe epilepsy.

"I was very proud of our college learners, adult residents and schoolchildren who welcomed the Duchess during her tour."

The building was blessed by Canon Paschal Ryan, Episcopal Vicar for the Diocese of Westminster, and the royal guest was presented with gifts made by clients attending St Elizabeth's social enterprise projects Ashvale, The Drawing Room and Jewellery Project, which provide learning and leisure opportunities for its young learners and adults alike in organic horticulture, arts, ceramics and jewellery.

At the unveiling of the ARC plaque, the Duchess was presented with a posy of flowers by school pupils Ellie Berry and Dylan Rix.

School celebrates its 40 years

MILWARDS PRIMARY Pupils and staff celebrated the Paringdon Road school's ruby anniversary by unveiling the new logo, wearing red and releasing hundreds of balloons.

The school kicked off celebrations in March when a vote was held among students, staff, governors and parents to pick a new crest.

The logo was unveiled last month and a special celebration for the school's 40th birthday was held the following day.

Children dressed in head-to-toe red and released red balloons in a competition in which the owner of the balloon that travels the furthest will win a prize.

Headteacher Angela Downie, pictured above unveiling the new logo, said: "We decided to change our old one because it did not represent us and after a little research realised there was no strong history behind it either.

"The children loved voting for the new official logo and our new one is brilliant.

"Our students also released their red balloons in honour of their school on 'Ruby Tuesday' which was great fun."

Students achieve maths and science success

MARK HALL Year 11 students have cause for celebration after receiving their module GCSE exam results in maths and science.

Pupils studying triple science - a subject comprising chemistry, biology and physics - achieved 100 per cent A* to C grades in chemistry and biology.

Head girl Andrea Mante (16) stood out from the crowd with an early A* in GCSE maths after managing to gain 297 out of 300 points across all the requirements of the qualification. She also scored full marks in her science papers.

Sharing in her success were students Joseph Wright (16), Ben Mears (15) and Valentine Goromonzi (16), who all achieved three A's in their triple science GCSE, while Katie Brigden (16) achieved two A* and one A and Amie Bruce (16) one A* and two As.

Deputy headteacher Keeley French said: "We are very proud of the hard work and commitment shown by these students in these difficult subjects. All of them want to go to top universities and with this attitude, they are sure to succeed."

A special visit from the Netherlands

FAWBERT & BARNARD'S

PRIMARY Staff and pupils welcomed a group of teachers and special needs co-ordinators from several primary schools from the Netherlands as part of the visitors' learning tour into provisions for students with special needs.

During their visit to the school in London Road, Old Harlow, the group observed lessons, spoke to pupils and discussed with teachers the provisions for children with special needs and disabilities.

The visit was organised with the aim of benchmarking the special needs school care system in the Netherlands by comparing the procedures used in England to their own.

A spokesperson for Fawbert & Barnard's said: "We are absolutely delighted to be involved in a project like this.

"We very much hope that both our own teachers and our Dutch visitors will be able to share their experiences and learn from this visit and the rest of their tour for the benefit of all our pupils."

Nursery tots enjoy their taste of summer

BLOSSOMS NURSERY Youngsters at the Thornwood Common nursery made the most of the sunshine as staff held their very first barbecue in the garden.

The children had the choice of vegetarian sausages, burgers and chicken, all served with salad.

Staff also took the opportunity to warn the youngsters about the dangers of fire and give them some useful health and safety advice about staying safe.

The youngsters took full advantage of being outside and listened to stories in the garden, explored the digging area and the 'mud kitchen' and had fun on the trampoline.

Staff member Lucy Turner said: "Our chefs were very busy cooking all our vegetarian food which the children loved eating up.

"We all had a fantastic time in the garden enjoying the sun. There was lots of bouncing on the trampoline which, if their smiles were anything to go by, they really enjoyed. Then as a more relaxed activity we had lots of different stories in the story telling area."

Children have also been learning about what changes happen during the spring and summer seasons, as well as finding out more about trees and why they blossom.

"They have been very busy learning about trees," Lucy added. "They have all made some fantastic paintings, drawings and bark rubbings."

HOMES & GARDENS

WITH the recent economic climate giving many people cause for concern, it's no surprise that the housing market has seen a slow down as more and more of us decide to stay put rather than enter into the uncertain world of a new home and larger mortgage.

Equally, home crafts have enjoyed something of a renaissance as the 'make do and mend' mentality has become more prevalent and we enjoy taking the time to turn our houses and flats into real homes that can be enjoyed.

Making your home look great doesn't have to cost a fortune either. There are numerous, simple tricks that don't cost the earth but can make all the difference.

Try to look at your home through a stylist's eyes and you'll soon see things in a different light. For example, strategically placed candles can not only create an inviting atmosphere but they can smell fantastic too.

Even the simplest candles can make a huge impact on the atmosphere of a room. Flickering candlelight makes a room softer and more inviting than the sometimes harsh electric light. Store candles in the fridge for at least eight hours before using too as they will burn more slowly and last longer.

You might want to think about changing your home accessories according to the season.

In summer, use light cotton throws and then in winter try tactile fabrics for cushions and bed covers.

Simple changes can totally change a room, whether it's in a bedroom or the way you dress a sofa or chair. The use of different shapes can change the feel of a room, too. A curvy chair softens the look, inviting someone to curl up in it.

Try to remember to have fresh flowers. At this time of year they're usually cheap and plentiful and if you're lucky you'll have some to pick from your own garden.

Fresh flowers instantly cheer up any room. Low-maintenance indoor plants strategically placed around your home work well, too, and a delicate silk or dried flower arrangement can dress any table instantly.

Home is where the heart is - or so the saying goes. After a long day at work there's nothing better than returning home to collapse on your sofa or patio.

Creating a comfortable and inviting atmosphere is every homeowner's dream - make this year the year your home is at its best.

While the property you live in might be far from your ideal, even design experts agree that making a house a feelgood space is not about it being worthy of an interiors magazine, but ensuring it reflects who we are and how we live our lives.

HOMES & GARDENS

WHETHER it's a small courtyard or acres of lawn, as we move into summer now is the time to make sure you make the most of your outdoor space.

Look at it as an extension of your living room, creating an area where people can relax and socialize.

If you're planning to entertain outside a lot this year, take a look at your barbecue and see if it's still up to the job. There are some fantastic products on the market offering everything you could need when it comes to al fresco dining.

You might want to consider building a permanent fireplace or installing a hearth. Even if you just want somewhere to sit and chat with family and friends, choosing the right kind of outdoor furniture is important.

Again, there is a wealth of products to choose from but you need to make sure that it's weatherproof, which is why waterproof, wooden or rust-proof metal furniture is the ideal choice.

If you have plenty of outdoor space, why not think about creating separate sitting and eating areas? By putting down some decking or perhaps enclosing the sitting and eating areas with a low wall, you can distinguish them from other areas.

Pergolas also work very well when it comes to marking an area. Growing clematis or jasmine up the pergola's lattice work will allow you to enjoy the scent on a balmy summer evening. This can also provide a feeling of intimacy and enclosure while at the same time giving a sense of space that still lets in plenty of light and air.

Another thing to think about is how to arrange your furniture. Do you want to simply line up the chairs in a row - to, say, admire the view - or do you want to interact with your guests?

If you think of your outdoor space as somewhere you can actually live - at least during the summer months - you should arrange your furniture just as you would in your living room, with communication and interaction in mind.

Ideally, when it comes to the end of this long-awaited summer weather, it's a good idea to store your garden furniture so it looks as good as new for next year. If you don't have space to store it, then think about buying a weatherproof cover.

A PUBLISHED author who has spent most of her career writing as a secretary, PA and teacher took her first typing course in Harlow.

Kay Griffiths (69), who lives at Church Langley, was one of the first students to enrol on the course at Harlow Technical College in the 1960s.

"I spotted my photo in Nostalgia a couple of weeks ago," said Kay. "I'm the student right at the back with dark hair all up high like we use to wear it in those days."

"I took three typing classes at the college to get through all the levels. My first course was in 1961 and then I had two more, which were stage two and three, in 1962 and 1963."

Kay moved to Harlow when she was five years old and spent all her schooldays in the town.

"I went to Tany's Dell and I was a pupil at Mark Hall when the Queen and Prince Phillip visited," she recalled. "Then I went to college and after that went to university, which wasn't a very common thing in those days."

The self-confessed "life-long learner", who has 12 postgraduate degrees, then progressed into adult learning and teaching, returning to Harlow College as an examiner and lecturer during her 30-year teaching career.

"My typing classes were the first step towards everything else I did in later life. If I hadn't taken those courses at the college then I may not have been able to do all I have."

"In my time a lot of people left school at 15 or 16 to work and earn money. Hardly anyone continued their education until they were 18, although there were a few of us in the typing classes."

"My typing courses at the college were my first steps into my career and helped me then progress from typewriters to computers, which has been very important in my working life."

She added: "I think I must be one of the original college students of the town and I'll be going to their event on Saturday [May 18] to watch the film and hopefully talk to some other people who remember studying here in the 1960s."

The mother-of-two and grandmother-of-one added: "I grew up in Harlow and I was around when a lot of big events happened because the town was just starting up."

"I was part of the Brownies and the Guides and I remember we had a visit from Prince Phillip."

"We were told to take our coats off just before he arrived, even though it was cold, to look more presentable. When he turned up, he mentioned that we must be freezing as we weren't wearing any coats."

"He seemed like a very nice and ordinary man and he spent a little time talking to all of us."

"I was also a student at Mark Hall when the Queen made her first visit to the town and she came to the school, too."

● To celebrate Adult Learners Week, Harlow College is combining two information days with an exhibition of memorabilia from its own archives as well as material loaned by the Museum of Harlow.

Head of marketing Simon Boyce said: "We want to celebrate the journey that both the college and the community have taken and the opportunities that are now available as a result."

"The Star article about the event prompted several readers to contact the college and we have heard some fascinating tales. We are really looking forward to meeting former staff and students at the event that can help paint a picture of the college and the town in the 1960s."

The information events and exhibition are open to all on Saturday (May 18) from 11am-2pm and Wednesday (May 22) from 4.30-7pm.

If you remember being a part of the typing class at Harlow College or studying there in the 1960s, contact Nostalgia on (01279) 400577 or send an email to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

In the market for a celebration

THE Market Square in Harlow town centre will be celebrating its 57th birthday on Saturday.

The once-thriving market first opened in 1956 and the picture above, taken from George Taylor's Archive Photo Series of Harlow, shows the celebrations for the market's 30th anniversary in

Harlow Council chairman Laurie Smith is seen posing with youngsters after talking to stall holders at the market.

Do you recognise anyone in the photograph? If so, contact Nostalgia on (01279) 400 577 or email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

In & Around HARLOW

A day in the life of a busy veterinary surgery ...

Companion Care Vets is located inside Pets at Home on the St James Retail Park, Harlow and is a busy practice that looks after the health needs of the local pet population.

Meeting the pets of Harlow is always a treat and although every day starts with a plan, the busy and sometimes uncertain nature of a veterinary practice keeps the team on their toes!

Here is a snapshot of a 'typical day'.

"Each day's schedule is planned the night before. We review who is due in for surgery & treatment and the nurses plan routine activities, which include deep cleans, stock checks and client call backs.

At the end of the day we have no overnight patients, the surgery is spotless and organised. We are however on call...

At 9am the following morning we open our doors and the plan from yesterday has been revised a number of times. The vet on call was called out at 8.30pm to a large dog with 'bloat' a stomach condition requiring fast, difficult surgical correction. The surgery took four hours from first presentation to the point when the vet was able to leave the recovery in the nurses capable hands.

At 2am there was a call from a client who had had 'one too many'... he wanted to be sure the fox he had seen in his garden hours before had gotten home safely! Another call at 6.30am meant the vet had four or five hours sleep! He was due to start consulting at 9am!

The day's surgeries have been admitted, but not started due to the nurses concentrating on last night's emergency patient. The first appointment of the day brings a rabbit with fly strike, another patient needing urgent care.

10.30am brings a puppy with a fractured leg after being accidentally stepped on. Thankfully the puppy is insured so the owners don't have financial worries on top of their concern for their beloved pet. Scheduled appointments have to be juggled.

Midday brings sad news - last night's emergency surgery patient passes away. This patient had a slim chance of survival, but losing her brings the entire team down and the vet who performed the surgery breaks the news to the owners - it is extremely sad for all concerned.

The afternoon produces no further emergencies and consults are back to running on time and surgery finishes in theatre as predicted.

After a rather downbeat morning we are all glad to see a lovely litter of puppies in for a health check (lots of cuddles!) and a dog who has achieved his weight loss target! Three cheers for him and his family!

Phew, now it's time for a cup of tea and to plan for tomorrow. You never know, we may get to see another skunk in the surgery again!"

Established 1958

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20

The week ahead includes some powerful influences which could push you to make a decision sooner rather than later. The focus shifts to communication and learning as well as exploration. You'll likely be keen to expand your horizons. Encourage your curiosity as it may open new doors. A clash with someone in authority may need careful handling. Call for more advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21

Finances look positive, especially once the Sun moves into Gemini this week. If you've been underestimating your ability to increase your earnings, try to change your mind set. A little effort may bring exciting opportunities your way. Call for more news...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21

As the Sun swings into your sign, you may notice a boost in energy and confidence. Relationships become a focus as a Lunar Eclipse in your partnership zone may highlight areas of weakness and encourage fruitful discussion. If your relationship is strong, you'll benefit from any changes made. If your relationship is shaky, this could ramp up tensions even more. Call me for your love scope...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23

You're in that cycle in which your focus may be on thoughts and feelings, rather than what's happening in the outside world. It's time to assess your heartfelt desires and consider what's important to you over the weeks and months ahead. Indeed, a Lunar Eclipse in your health and work zone may highlight an issue that needs immediate attention. Call me for more advice...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23

Career matters are still of importance, but the focus now shifts to your social zone, to networking and making new connections. A major influence might put you in a bind. You may need to make a decision that could change things on the work or health front. Meanwhile, be careful if you find yourself falling for someone. Try not to rush things, hold back a little. Call for your love scope...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23

This week brings plenty more options for career success. The more you put in, the more you'll get out. A curious and inquisitive approach to doing business or finding a job is the right attitude. Home and career matters may need balancing, especially as this week's Eclipse may bring an issue to a head. Try to resist forcing a budding romance to flower too soon. Call me for more...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23

Your appetite for travel and adventure seems to be whetted. Holiday plans may be in the pipeline, and an interest in anything that expands your options may prove alluring. A message may encourage a decision or a change of tack concerning an ongoing matter. Your partner may want to make exciting changes and you may resist their efforts - or vice versa. Call for more advice...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22

Shared financial resources continue to look upbeat. Your partner may have a pay rise or additional funds coming in that they're more than willing to share with you. You might find it easier to get credit. However, a Lunar Eclipse in your personal money zone suggests you may need to rework your budget or pay off an urgent debt. Aim for peace of mind. Call for your financial forecast...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21

Partnerships take an interesting turn, showing plenty of potential for change and revision, and yet a major issue may need to be dealt with. How you do so can reveal your overall compatibility or lack of it. In general, your partner may seem supportive - but may need some convincing. A desire to take a creative risk may be offset by a fear of financial failure. Call for your financial scope...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20

Things at work seem to show a successful run of luck, which combined with your hard work, makes for good news and rewarding opportunities. Share ideas and explore new and creative options. If an inspired thought demands action - run with it! You may have an inbuilt resistance to suggestions that affect the family dynamic. However, talking this over may help. Call for more...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19

Romance, children and creative issues all look upbeat and very positive this week. Try not to get stressed out if you find yourself in a dilemma. If you're unsure, do bide your time. An instant decision may not be the best one. An issue with a friend or group may come to a head. Handle with care as tempers may flare and cause a falling out. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20

Home and family matters continue to blossom. You may become even more involved in family affairs in a positive and pleasing way. Career issues might need to be considered, as work duties may conflict with private matters. You may be pushed into making a timely decision. However, this isn't a good time to borrow or lend money, where friends are concerned. Call for more...

Noriko's debut kids' book is a darn good read

A HARLOW artist has taken inspiration from her childhood to create an enchanting new picture book for young readers. Bocchi & Pocchi: A Tale Of Two Socks has been a five-year labour of love for illustrator Noriko Matsubara, who has studios at West Gate gallery Gatehouse Arts.

Inspired by memories of watching her grandmother darn socks, she hopes the book will capture the imaginations of toddlers and young children.

"I started putting together ideas for this book soon after graduating from art college," she told the Star.

"It took me nearly a year to complete the book, another three years to find a publisher, and finally a year for the book to go through revision, editorial and the printing process.

"After a total of five years, I finally have my picture book in my hand!"

She added: "I'm very lucky to have this studio space through Gatehouse Arts and I want to thank everyone who has been involved in setting up these studios and helped my dream come true."

Noriko will be signing copies of Bocchi & Pocchi: A Tale Of Two Socks from 2-4pm at Gatehouse Arts' Eastgate Gallery.

The book is available to buy now from the gallery as well as bookshops.

Indian Summer set to Raze Roof at Playhouse

CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE heartwarming tale of an unlikely friendship is set to light up the Playhouse Studio today (Thursday) as inclusive performing arts group Razed Roof bring their enchanting new production to the theatre.

The Lottery Awards finalists, who narrowly missed out on winning top prize in last year's televised finale, will stage two performances of Indian Summer, a moving rites-of-passage piece written by playwright Harwant Bains.

It centres around British-born boy

Kulwant, who faces something of an identity crisis after travelling to India for the first time with his family.

Forced to face his fears, the youngster slowly begins to embrace life in the subcontinent, striking up an unlikely friendship with a Holy Man after offering him ice cream.

Razed Roof artistic director Annette Lidster told the Star: "This is a truly heartwarming tale that the group have really enjoyed working on."

"We actually performed an adaptation of the play back in 1995 shortly after it was written and it's always been at the back of my mind to stage it again."

The production will be dedicated to former trustee Keith Watson, who passed away last month.

"Keith's death shocked us all as it was so sudden," Annette said. "He was a great friend and a key part of the group, helping us get off the ground and always throwing himself into fundraising and community events."

"He will be sorely missed by all of us so the least we could do was pay tribute to him with this performance."

● Indian Summer runs in the Playhouse Studio today (Thursday) at 2pm and 7.45pm. Tickets cost £8 from www.playhouseharlow.com.

Players get to the heart of the matter

review

Side Effects

Moot House Players
Moot Hall, TheStow

A HEART transplant saves the life of an Anglican vicar but he soon finds that life turned upside down when his behaviour undergoes a radical change. Has he received the heart of a fairground wall-of-death rider or has the dead man taken over his body?

Written by Rising Damp creator Eric Chappell, Side Effects takes a sideways look at life and love, generating lots of laughter in the process.

The action revolves around confirmed atheist Frank Cook, an invalid admitted to a nursing home with a rare condition that leaves him unable to walk.

In a masterly comic performance by Geoff Leeds, he is cynical and cantankerous with a wonderfully offbeat sense of humour, constantly bickering with his Christian wife, June. Devout she may be, but June (an assured and sympathetic Jenny Southwell) gives as good as she gets in their marital point-scoring.

June is delighted that the Rev Paul Latimer is staying at the same nursing home as her "Cookie", but Frank is suspicious. Something isn't right about this man of the cloth. For a start, why is a pretty young woman following him?

This young woman is Tracey (an engagingly determined Kerry Rowland), grieving girlfriend of dead fairground worker Melvin. She longs to be close to his heart, the heart that belongs to her. And if that heart is now in the body of Paul, she just has to get close to him.

Michael Rees gave a suitably bewildered performance as the vicar, confused by the changes in his personality and unnerved by Tracey's pursuit of him. His wife, Sarah (Catriona Macleay), a bishop's daughter who proclaims she's not a typical vicar's wife, dons some eye-catching outfits in an effort to regain her husband's attention – but Paul is too busy examining his own life.

What is the heart? Is it just a piece of meat? Does the brain control emotions, or is it the heart? And if it is the heart, what happens when it is transplanted? Deep questions with no simple answers but nothing is quite as it seems, and by the end of the play both Paul and Frank have had their prejudices challenged.

This was Kerry Rowland's directorial debut and, ably assisted by MHP production manager Anne Farr, she succeeded in drawing out all the humour of the script without swamping the pathos and confusion of the central theme.

GARDENING & PUZZLES

Chelsea's here again

SO, what are we going to learn from this year's internationally-acclaimed horticultural show? While sustainability may be the watchword of this year's RHS Chelsea Flower Show, with emphasis on biodiversity, wild planting areas and inviting eco-systems, so many of the designs simply wouldn't be feasible in our own gardens.

So, eminent designers ranging from Tom Stuart-Smith to Jekka McVicar are offering advice to gardeners based on their own experiences in a new centenary edition of Take Chelsea Home by Chris Young, which looks at how gardeners can adopt similar techniques to create beautiful spaces in their own residential plots.

Here's a few tips from the award-winners:
■ Organic herb grower Jekka McVicar, who has won 14 gold medals at Chelsea, on planting a summer salad crop container: "Salad rocket, dill and mustard are all great salad herbs that can be easily raised from seed and grown in a container.
"The trick is to choose a planter large enough to grow a crop for cutting; an ideal size is 23cm (9in) wide by 18cm (7in) high, or 5 litres/1 gallon, or larger. Fill with compost and water well, then sow

by Hannah Stephenson

the seeds and cover lightly with more compost.
"Set the container in a sheltered warm spot that is shaded from the midday sun. Once you start cutting your salad, feed the plants every week with a balanced liquid fertiliser."
■ Landscape designer Tom Stuart-Smith, who has eight Chelsea golds under his belt, on layered planting: "The idea behind layered planting in the garden is to repeat the ecological patterns inherent in complex plant communities.
"In an oak woodland, for example, there are various different levels: an upper canopy, often a middle canopy of medium-sized trees and saplings; a shrub layer, a herb layer, and then bulbs and corms at the bottom.
"By adapting this natural pattern to a garden, it is possible to have different layers flowering at different times, usually with the lower layers flowering first."
■ Professor Nigel Dunnett, three-time Silver-Gilt winner and designer of this year's Royal Bank of Canada Blue Water Roof Garden and one of the principal planting consultants for the London Olympic Park, on green roofs: "Garden sheds, porches, summerhouses, balconies, garages and small extensions all offer great potential for planting green roofs.

"The most important consideration for such a roof is how much weight the chosen building will support. It must comfortably take the weight of a person if it is to be strong enough to have a green roof planted on it.
"You can create a simple green roof by securing a pre-grown mat of sedums over a pond liner on the roof surface, but it is referable to plant individually into a generous layer of free-draining soil or potting compost on the roof. Many typical alpine species such as dianthus and thyme are excellent for green roofs, as are low-growing species tulips."
■ Take Chelsea Home by Chris Young is published by Mitchell Beazley, priced £20.

Razzle dazzle return to era of glitz and glamour

THE GREAT GATSBY (3D & 2D)
certificate 12A, 2h23m

BACK in 1992 visionary Australian theatre director Baz Luhrmann made a seamless transition to the big screen with his swoonsomely romantic fable, Strictly Ballroom.

This feelgood debut, the first part of Luhrmann's so-called Red Curtain trilogy, garnered numerous awards including three Baftas.

His imaginative version of Romeo + Juliet with Leonardo DiCaprio and Claire Danes proved that Shakespeare can be sexy and relevant to modern audiences and then, in 2002, his visually dazzling musical Moulin

Rouge snagged eight Oscar nominations including Best Picture and a Best Actress nod for Nicole Kidman.

He reunited with Kidman for Australia - an overlong love story co-starring Hugh Jackman - and now he gravitates back to leading man DiCaprio for The Great Gatsby, his first foray into the fashionable 3D format which claims the honour of opening this year's Cannes Film Festival.

Luhrmann is the first film-maker in almost 40 years to commit F Scott Fitzgerald's classic novel to the big screen, bringing his distinctive style and youthful energy to a story of smouldering passions in swinging 1920s New York.

Mysterious millionaire war hero Jay Gatsby (DiCaprio) is famed for throwing the most lavish and decadent parties for the social elite and everyone wants to be close to the dashing and moneyed man of mystery.

Lowly stockbroker Nick Carraway (Tobey Maguire) is drawn into Gatsby's orbit thanks to his friendships with golfer Jordan Baker (Elizabeth Debicki), his cousin Daisy Buchanan (Carey Mulligan) and her husband Tom (Joel Edgerton).

But as Nick is granted admission to Gatsby's inner circle he discovers heartbreak in the millionaire's murky history. Past and present collide and Nick bears witness to the poisoning of friendships by jealousy and forbidden desire.

Director Justin Lin puts the pedal to the metal for this sixth instalment of the souped-up action franchise, reuniting the cast of the previous film.

Dominic Toretto (Vin Diesel), Brian O'Conner (Paul Walker) and their gang - comprising Dominic's sister Mia (Jordana Brewster), fast-talking Roman Pearce (Tyrese Gibson), technical wizard Tej (Chris 'Ludacris' Bridges), drift racer Han (Sung Kang) and speed freak Gisele (Gal Gadot) - are fugitives from the law after stealing 100 million dollars from a drug lord.

Tenacious federal agent Luke Hobbs (Dwayne Johnson) and rookie sidekick Elena (Elsa Pataky) track down Dominic and Brian and offer the racers an opportunity to expunge their criminal records in exchange for bringing down British criminal mastermind Owen Shaw (Luke Evans) and his goons.

Engines roar and rubber burns as Dominic, Brian and the gang embark on their most audacious and perilous mission adventure yet, pitting them against the usual array of automobiles and a heavily armoured tank.

This computer-animated adventure propels an unsuspecting young woman into a fantastical realm of valiant warriors, enchanted flowers and talking slugs.

Seventeen-year-old Mary Katherine (voiced by Amanda Seyfried) lives with her madcap father Professor Bomba (Jason Sudeikis) who ventures into the forest every day, claiming to be studying little men who live in the trees.

Naturally, Mary Katherine thinks her father has lost his grip on sanity until she is magically shrunk and stumbles into the kingdom of the Leafmen - brave warriors who protect the forest under the guiding light of Queen Tara (Beyonce Knowles).

When a rival army led by evil Mandrake (Christoph Waltz) attempts to take over the forest and destroy the Leafmen, Mary Katherine and her new forest friends - including a slug called Mub (Aziz Ansari), a snail called Grub (Chris O'Dowd), a toad called Bufo (Pitbull) and a wise caterpillar called Nim Galuu (Steven Tyler) - prepare to fight the onslaught.

STAR TREK INTO DARKNESS (3D) In this sequel to JJ Abrams's 2009 revamp of the Star Trek franchise, Starfleet is rocked by a terrorist attack in London masterminded by the mysterious John Harrison (Benedict Cumberbatch). James T Kirk (Chris Pine), who has been stripped of his captaincy and now serves under Rear Admiral Christopher Pike (Bruce Greenwood), becomes embroiled in the hunt for Harrison led by Admiral Marcus (Peter Weller). Predictably, Harrison doesn't intend to surrender, so Kirk gives chase flanked by Spock (Zachary Quinto), communications officer Uhura (Zoe Saldana), navigator Pavel Chekov (Anton Yelchin), chief medical officer Dr Leonard McCoy (Karl Urban), chief engineer Montgomery Scott (Simon Pegg) and helmsman Sulu (John Cho). The crew races against time to stop Harrison from obliterating everyone they hold dear but success hinges on the ultimate sacrifice.

IRON MAN 3 Robert Downey Jr returns as the billionaire-inventor-superhero Tony Stark, aka Iron Man, who faces a two-pronged attack - the arrival of biologically advanced super-powered humans and the mysterious figurehead of a terror group who is known as The Mandarin (Ben Kingsley). When Stark's Malibu mansion is reduced to rubble, along with all his gadgets and gizmos, he embarks on a harrowing quest to find those responsible. But left with nothing more than a ruined Iron Man suit, he's forced to survive by his own devices, relying on his ingenuity and instincts.

ALL STARS Youngsters Ethan (Theo Stevenson) and Jaden (Akai Osei-Mansfield) attend The Garage, a safe environment for local youngsters to express themselves. When the building is threatened with demolition, they vow to save it by organising a talent show. As the centrepiece, the lads challenge a local street dance crew to a battle against their own newly formed troupe including tomboy Amy (Fleur Houdijk), well-to-do siblings Tim (Dominic Herman-Day) and Rebecca (Amelia Clarkson), and exuberant Brian (Gamal Josefa), who fears he won't learn the moves in time. The show must remain secret because Jaden has been forbidden from dancing by his parents Mark (Ashley Walters) and Kelly (Javine Hylton). Ultimately, the boy must choose between disappointing his folks and letting down his pals.

Chalet bungalow in a semi-rural location

LOCATED in a semi-rural position in the village of Roydon, this spacious detached chalet bungalow has plenty of wow factor. There are three double bedrooms, a large through lounge and dining room and five-piece bathroom as well as an en-suite shower room.

The wooden front door opens into a hallway where there is solid oak flooring and stairs to the first floor with understairs storage space.

The lounge has a bay window to the front aspect, two double glazed windows to the side and a feature gas fireplace with marble surround. This large room could easily be divided to make an extra reception room/bedroom.

Patio doors lead in to the conservatory/summer room which has double glazed patio doors opening onto the garden.

The kitchen features a range of wall and base units with solid wood work surfaces.

This room opens into the dining room which has a bay window to the front and glazed doors to the rear aspect.

Accessed from the garden, a brick-built detached utility room is fitted with wall and base units with inset sink and mixer tap and has space for a washing machine and tumble dryer.

Bedroom one has a bay window to the front and built-in wardrobes. Also on this floor is the family bathroom.

Doors on the first floor landing lead to two further bedrooms, one of which has an en-suite shower room.

The rear garden is enclosed by panelled fencing and has side pedestrian access. It is mainly laid to lawn with a patio area, mature shrubs and trees.

To the front of the house is an 'in and out' driveway.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

OF all the property details that make their way onto my desk at Homes Now, it's always the ones where the agents trumpet a wealth of 'interesting features' that catch my eye.

Of course, 'interesting' is in the eye of the beholder and I'm sure not all of you get as excited as I by exposed beams or open fireplaces.

However, one of the more recent additions to the interesting features list which seems to appeal to all ages and tastes is the wet room. These are regularly included in new builds and many homeowners have converted or upgraded existing cloakrooms or bathrooms to create one.

They're highly desirable at the moment according to most design experts and once installed can even increase the value of your home.

If you haven't come across one before, a wet room is simply a waterproofed bathroom with an open shower. The entire floor is sealed and tiled, which then acts as a form of giant shower tray.

Because the floor is all on the same level, a wet room can open up your bathroom, making it look spacious, sleek and modern.

For many of us, our first experience of one is in a good hotel and once you've seen one it makes your shower room feel a little second best.

Most bathrooms will make a suitable wet room but some of the smallest ones can, ironically, get too wet with nowhere to keep essentials such as towels dry!

The key to a successful wet room is the waterproofing. You can't just lay tiles and grout and hope that they will hold back the water - you need a professional system. It is not a job for anyone other than the highly skilled and best left to the professionals.

When done correctly, your new bathroom should be less prone to leaks than your old one and, with a streamlined appearance, is a dream to clean too.

In superb condition for £182,995

THIS deceptively spacious property at the end of a terrace in Jerounds, Harlow, is in immaculate condition with delightful décor. There is a large hall, three bedrooms, a lounge, dining area and ground floor cloakroom. The south-facing rear garden is

Available to rent for £850pcm

Large corner plot for £287,500

SITUATED on a large corner plot at the front of Windmill Fields facing onto Moor Hall Road in Old Harlow, this semi-detached family home has a drive, garage and workshop.

The interiors are beautifully presented with modern fittings throughout.

There are two reception rooms, three bedrooms, a modern fitted kitchen, a rear lobby and utility room.

Windmill Fields is located just off Churchgate Street on the edge of Old Harlow.

Call Geoffrey Matthews Estates on (01279) 44988 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

Yours for £795,000

TADGELLS at Carters Green, Matching, is a Grade II listed, former hall house dating back to the 15th century.

It has been enlarged and modified over the years and is now a delightful home with plenty of potential in the form of the separate bakehouse/dairy with pyramidal roof which is south-facing and would make a fabulous kitchen/family room.

The property sits in grounds of almost an acre and there is an ancient moat as well as part of the timber-framed stable block.

Carters Green is a little known hamlet within the parish of Matching in a semi-rural location with wonderful countryside views.

Call Howick and Brooker on (01279) 418888 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

The Weakest Link?

Many property transactions form part of a chain of related sales. Of course a chain is only as strong as its weakest link and, as a national statistic; unfortunately one in every three chains will fall apart, often at the eleventh hour. This happens for a variety of reasons from one party's mortgage glitch to an unpleasant surprise in another's survey or title enquiries.

However, the most common factors affecting a chain breaking down is simply that the opportunity for one party or another to pull out on a whim exists, and often extends to several weeks under the current property buying system in the UK. Buyer remorse is a recognised syndrome, where buyers worry that they might not have made the right decision and their commitment wavers. Without any form of pre-contract commitment, the problem is likely to be with us for some time.

Well-trained estate agents are able to spot the signs of buyer remorse early on and minimise its effects. More importantly, we go to great lengths to ensure that a chain not only remains intact, often by our involvement several links away, but also that the time between finding a buyer and exchange of contracts is reduced to the absolute minimum.

Communication is the key, and we urge all our buyers and sellers to be as open with us as they can so that we can use our skills to facilitate a sale that is as swift, productive and hassle-free as possible.

Finding a buyer for your property is often the easy part, but selecting an estate agent who will ensure the sale actually goes through is just as critical.

Scrap

Cars Wanted

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Athlete Chiassaro now fifth in world

RUNNING

FIVE athletes from Harlow competed at the British Wheelchair Racing Association Championships at Stoke Mandeville.

In the elite races, both Richard Chiassaro and Anne Wafula Strike put in strong early season performances.

Sprint expert Chiassaro demonstrated why he is the British number one in the T54 class by winning the 100m in 14.89 seconds and taking second place over 200m, 400m and 800m.

His 100m performance ranks him 5th in the world.

Wafula Strike (T54) was up against double Paralympic champion Hannah Cockcroft (T34) and took a third place in the 100m A race followed by a 200m B-race win.

The younger members of the Harlow squad produced a set of personal bests throughout the day. In their 100m races, Dean Harvey (T34) and 16-year-old Joe Brazier (T34) produced times of 19.83s and 20.85s which ranks them fifth and sixth in the UK.

Further duels between Dean and Joe resulted in more closely matched PBs of 30.14s and 38.59s in the 200m races and a win for Joe over Dean in the 400m.

Adam Goldspink-Burgess (T34) set a PB of 90.14s in the 400m, moving his UK ranking to 8th despite being only 16 years old.

The wheelchair squad trains Monday and Tuesday evening at Mark Hall Sportscentre in Harlow.

● HARLOW Running Club member John Steadman completed the multi-terrain Birchanger 10K. He was 16th out of 152 finishers in 45 minutes and 22 seconds, followed by Pasquale Pellicchia (29th) in 47.23.

Spurs ace hits airwaves

EX-Spurs star Micky Hazard was a guest on the weekly Hawks Radio station.

Hazard, 53, who was in Spurs' FA Cup winning 1982 squad and the 1984 UEFA Cup winning cup team, entertained listeners with his views on football.

The former midfielder's dry sense of humour and big knowledge of the beautiful game and helped to make it an enjoyable broadcast.

Hazard also played for Chelsea and then for Swindon.

While he was at Swindon, he played under former Spurs team-mate and ex-Harlow schoolboy Glenn Hoddle helping the Wiltshire club to be promoted to the Premiership at the end of the 1992-93 season.

The show also recently featured Harlow Star sports editor Alan Scott and sports reporter David Rimmer, who gave their views on Harlow Town FC and the future of under-pressure manager Danny Chapman.

MARK Twiner and Sarah Stimpson picked up the most coveted awards at Harlow Rugby Club's annual presentation evening.

Twiner's performances won the vote of the coaches for player of the year for Harlow men's first team, who finished sixth in RFU London division three north east. Stimpson, a fast runner and gifted back, got the women team's player award.

Harlow women's team came fourth out of eight teams in their Women's South East League and reached the quarter-finals of the National Challenge Cup.

The Saints (Harlow's second team) had a brilliant season.

They lost only four games winning the premier division of the Greene King merit table and making the final of their cup competition.

Awards at Friday's event also recognised service to the club and game.

Girls U-15 player Katie Boggas received the RFU Young Volunteer Award for service to the game.

She has assisted as a volunteer on match days.

RFU Presidents awards were presented to Kevin Ellis and Alice Gladden.

Ellis has worked for the Rams in many capacities for more than 20 years including the management of junior teams, the Colts and the 1st XV.

Gladden also has a long track record working with both mini and junior sections and her part in forming the ladies team was crucial.

Essex RFU Presidents awards went to Tony Hills and Neil Boggas.

Hills has worked tirelessly as a treasurer for the junior section and as a referee.

Boggas has worked hard in various capacities at youth level.

The chairman's award - 'clubman' of the year went to Tracey Lee for her organisation of the ladies rugby team.

Other Harlow RFC playing awards:

First team - most improved player John Unwin; Players player Danny Stonehouse

The Saints (second team) most improved player James Sinfield; Players' Player Rob Treamer.

Rams side: Most improved player Simon Bird; players' player and player of the year, Martin Watts.

Ladies team: most improved player Emma Hancock; players' player - Tracey Lee.

Harlow RFC awards: Chris Locke Memorial Award (services to mini-rugby), Des Keane.

The Ken Spooner award for services to the junior rugby section: Martin Mallia.

The John Hurley award for outstanding contributions to senior rugby - Garry Watts.

President's award: John Hewlett.

Cowley leads way

HARLOW'S Gabriella Cowley is leading the way with fellow international Alex Peters in the English women's amateur championship at Kings Norton Golf Club, Worcestershire, with a one under par 71.

The 17-year-old from Brocket Hall signed off her round with a birdie four on the 18th - thanks to an excellent up and down from the greenside bunker.

She said: "It's a really good start, it's all about putting yourself in a good position."

The second round was due to take place yesterday. The leading 32 players will play the final 36 holes today (Thursday).

Rams young ones impress

HARLOW Rugby Club's under-11 squad have been clocking up some excellent results recently.

At the Romford Rugby Festival they joined a number of other Essex teams as they battled for honours in two groups.

Harlow performed well in their group, playing with skill and putting in some hard tackles to earn a place in the Plate final.

They were pitted against hosts Romford, and there was little to choose between the teams with a 1-1 draw, and the Plate honours were shared.

This result builds on successive wins that the U-11s have achieved during their season.

The team then competed in the Essex Cup at Southend RFC.

Following wins against Thurrock and Stanford, a draw against Barking, and a loss against Southend, Harlow met Braintree for the fourth place play-off. They lost 2-1 but were applauded for a fine day's rugby.

Sumners Youth FC win three cup finals

SUMNERS Youth Football Club made it a hat-trick of cup final victories with success for three of its teams on Sunday.

The club had teams playing in their respective age group Secretary's Cup finals in the West Essex & East Herts Youth Football League, held at Burnett Park in Harlow.

Sumners Vipers U-10 won the U-10 Silver Division Secretary's Cup with a thrilling victory over champions-elect Elsenham.

There were also victories for Sumners Cobras U-9s in the Gold Division Secretary's Cup and Sumners Youth Vipers the U-9 Secretary's Cup Silver Division, beating Langley Trojans 1-0 and Parsloe 2-1 respectively.

J. Fox got the only goal for Cobras U-9s, while S. Jarrett-Morris got both goals for Vipers U-9s.

But for Vipers U-10s it was sweet revenge after coming so close to winning the league title.

They twice led against Elsenham through superb strikes from Billy Thomas but were pegged back.

There was controversy with the second Elsenham goal as a penalty was awarded by referee Dave Square when the Vipers goalkeeper came out to thwart Elsenham striker Finley Cameron-Prior.

VIPERS' VENOM: The triumphant Sumners Vipers U-10 team with their trophy (S)

But as extra-time loomed, Vipers won a spot-kick themselves and Thomas stepped up to complete his hat-trick.

The Sumners team consisted of Josh Shepherd, Benjamin Sivathanu, Cameron Elliott, Harrison Leathers, Ben Harknett, George Blackwell, Kai Boggan, Cameron Hennessey and Alfie Thurgood.

Vipers manager Doug Leathers said: "The players have performed superbly this season. They have made huge progress and now we hope to finish things off by winning promotion to the gold division for next season."

"The boys really deserve this. We were very unlucky not to win the league after beating Elsenham 3-0 a fortnight ago. Now we have something to celebrate."

Other results:- U-11 division: Alemite Yth 1, Frontiers Yth Panthers 1; Frontiers Yth Pumas 0, Sumners Yth Cobras 2; Ridsen Wood 0 Sumners Yth Vipers 2 (Charlie Barclay, James Jura); Sumners Yth Cobras 2, Frontiers Yth Pumas 3; Sumners Yth Vipers 6 (Ben Willis 3, Charlie Barclay, James Jura, Jordan Welsh), Ridsen Wd 1. ## Poor start for new skipper

IT was a disappointing start to the Shepherd Neame Essex League season for new Harlow Town skipper Ashley Alderson, whose side lost by six wickets against a strong Old Brentwoods side.

The Ash Tree Field side could only muster 138 in their opening division three fixture.

Town were put in to bat but the day got off to an awful start when Pat Yates was dismissed first ball of the innings LBW, followed by Ramya Upadhyay who was caught behind on the fourth ball.

Town slipped to 55-6 and were not looking like getting past 100 runs.

A good partnership from Shiraz Ali (42) and Ronnie Yates (28) helped Harlow Town reach 138 all out and gave the home side something for the bowlers to work with.

Town needed to take early wickets and it looked like it wasn't going to be their day when a catch went down third ball of the innings.

Chances kept coming and the visiting side lost four early wickets (three from Ashley Alderson and one from Upadhyay) and were struggling on 34-4.

However, a sensible batting display from Khalid Mahmood (49 not out) and K. Sarwar (60 not out) enabled Brentwoods to post 139-4.

Skipper Alderson said: "It's disappointing to start the first league game as captain with a defeat but we will look to bounce back this week at Epping. Our batting has been our strong point during pre-season with our bowling not quite clicking. This week it was the other way round. Hopefully on Saturday we can perform in both departments and get the win we need to kick start our season."

Town are at Epping this Saturday.

Potter Street cruise to easy away victory

POTTER Street & Church Langley 1st XI secured a comfortable eight-wicket away victory over division three rivals Bengoe in the Herts & Essex Cricket League.

Having won the toss the visitors opted to bowl.

Openers Alf Khawaja and Terry Savanhu picked up four early wickets.

This was followed by some tight bowling by Muddassar Hussain Jr and Travis Barzey, who got two wickets each.

The home side were bowled out for 82 within 30 overs.

Savanhu was the pick of the bowlers with three wickets for 17 runs in eight overs, accruing four maidens.

In response the openers Jeff Armstrong (22) and Surath Bastolla (42) put on 61 for the first wicket.

Potts Street strolled to the target, finishing on 84-2 after only 18 overs.

The second XI also won their match against Stansted Hall & Elsenham II in division five.

Batting first and posting a total of 184-7, Sam Sweeting scored 82 while Chris Wise notched 55 in a 100+ opening stand.

With ball in hand, spin bowler Dan Pullen claimed five wickets in seven overs for 17 runs while captain Peter Jackson claimed three wickets for 14 runs in nine overs.

Stansted Hall were bowled out for 122 as Potter Street triumphed by 62 runs.

SELECTIONS for the racing at Harlow Greyhound Stadium tomorrow (Friday May 17): 7.30 Tullna Chief; 7.47 Potty Potter; 8.04 Lambstown Joker; 8.21 Rattridromin Molly (NAP); 8.38 Make Me Call; 8.54 Falkners Meg (NB); 9.10 Mythical Emily; 9.26 Jules Jester; 9.42 Tropical Matt; 9.58 Adamant Sword; 10.15 Hackets Bridge.

Relentless Rockets get their claws into Tigers

RYE House Rockets have a 14-point advantage to take to Yorkshire tonight (Thursday) after beating Sheffield Tigers 52-38 in a wild and wet night in the first leg of the Knockout Cup at the Hoddesdon circuit.

The Rockets were forced to ride as a five-man outfit after Tyson Nelson's exclusion from the meeting just half an hour before the scheduled start by speedway's international governing body the FIM.

Clearly angered by the decision the rest of the team took their frustration out on the Tigers, overcoming class opposition and horrendous track conditions to storm to an emphatic victory.

Jason Garrity was once again the star of the show, winning four of his five races, while overworked Dane Kasper Lykke came out for four races in a row to clock up an invaluable 13 points from a full house of seven rides.

A torrential downpour during Heat 4 forced proceedings to be suspended for around 15 minutes.

Garrity said: "I just wanted to keep going. There was nothing wrong with the track, it was just a bit wet. We can all ride it."

When racing resumed Rockets always held the upper hand with Garrity on fire, and Olly Allen, once again ploughing a lonely furrow, storming to his second win of the night.

Lykke's mini-marathon helped Rockets pull away and the only scare came in Heat 13 as Allen demolished the fourth bend safety fence as he tried to chase down the impressive Ricky Wells.

To the relief of all he was able to walk back to the pits with nothing other than his pride bruised.

Parsloe suffer Bill Bruty loss to Heath

HATFIELD Heath capped a great season when they beat Parsloe Athletic 4-2 to win the Bill Bruty Cup final.

Heath had already clinched the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted and District Football League division one title in convincing style before the final at Bishop's Stortford FC.

Heath only lost one league match from 18 games and in winning on Saturday beat a team that could yet finish third in the premier division.

Chris Bishop netted a brace for Heath in the final.

The other goals were scored by Valentine Tyrell and Ben Simpson.

Parsloe's goals came from Adam Smith and Steven Smith.

Third-placed Lower Street rounded off their campaign with a 3-2 victory at second-placed North Weald in division one of the Footprint

FOOTBALL

Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District Football League.

Graham Learner, Isaac Addo and Colin Walker netted for the visitors on Saturday.

Dene Fitch and Matt Clark replied for the hosts.

In the premier division, Heath Rovers won by the odd goal in five at Avondale Rangers. James Crane, Chris Slater and Dave Anthony netted for the visitors.

Other results: div one Fairways Corinthians 1 (David Regan), Avondale Rangers res 1. Prem div: Hertfordshire Rangers w/o v Harbridge Ath (unable to raise a side).

● FLARE reserves remain top of division five in the Harlow & District Football League after a convincing 11-1 win against Harberts IV.

Two goals from Dan Ledain, one being a superb strike from outside the box helped Flare to three points with just two games remaining, both against title rivals Parsloe reserves.

Other goalscorers were Lee Clarke (2), Matt Cowell (2), Stuart Cowell, Gary Owen, Nick Usedon, Ryan Brett and Steve Smith.

Winning start stalls

RYE House Rockets' bid to get off to a winning start in the Premier League was scuppered by the weather as the meeting was abandoned in Heat 10 with the result, 36-27 to Redcard, standing.

It was a cruel blow for the Hoddesdon outfit as the abandonment could not have come at a worse time for the visitors.

Stand-in skipper Olly Allen stormed to victory in the opening race, but then fell behind 24-12 by Heat 6 as guest James Sarjeant failed to make an impact.

Jason Garrity, inset, reduced the deficit with a six point tactical win in the next race, and Tyson Nelson ensured a 3-3 by winning Heat 8.

But disaster struck the Australian when he went out again in the following race.

A plug lead came adrift when he was on course to a second straight victory, handing the Bears a 5-1 and a 13-point advantage.

Although Garrity and Anders Mellgren quickly cut the deficit back to nine points with a 5-1 of their own in Heat 10, the continued rainfall led to an early call-off.

Rye House promoter Len Silver said: "But for the abandonment, we would have gone home with at least a league point."

Harlow dispatch title favourites

Hainault & Clayhall 260-6
Harlow ..... 264-5
 Shepherd Neame Essex
 League, division one

HARLOW kicked off their 2013 Shepherd Neame Essex League campaign with a stunning five-wicket victory at title favourites Hainault & Clayhall.

After inserting the hosts, Hainault's Zobe Shariff and Irfan Shah, both former first class players, put on more than 100 for the first wicket before some sharp work by wicket-keeper Andre Riddell saw Shariff run out for 48 just before drinks.

A decisive moment came when Harlow skipper Luke Heskett bowled Shah for 78.

Ryan Hurst (42) scored quickly but then Harlow fought back in the last 10 overs with Andy McGarry removing Ishmael (42), who was caught by Rizwan Sadiq.

Spinner Ahmed Khawaja combined twice with Riddell to have Hurst and Ahmed (7) stumped in the same over.

When Luke Monger bowled Idris Patel for 3, Harlow looked set to keep the hosts below 250 but some late boundaries from Evans (14 not out) took the score to a very competitive 260-6 in 50 overs.

In reply, Harlow lost Conor Ramsay (4) and Rehman Ahmed (5) in quick succession.

However, Sadiq and Khawaja forged a fantastic partnership, constantly rotating the strike and punishing the bad ball to put Harlow firmly in control. The game looked all but over as Sadiq completed a great 100 and Khawaja passed 50.

CLASS ACT: Harlow bowler Andy McGarry

But some quick Clayhall wickets put the game back in the balance as Sadiq was caught for 113 and Khawaja was superbly run out by a direct hit for 68.

The experienced middle order pair of Nilesh Modwhadia and Simon Baulcomb continued to push Harlow towards the total.

With 16 needed off the last 14 balls, rain halted play. A break in the clouds allowed the game to be completed and the pair scored the remaining runs off just eight balls to complete a fantastic away victory.

Modwhadia finished 16 not out and Baulcomb 22 not out.

Heskett said: "This was an amazing win and the side is oozing with confidence. Sadiq's 100 was superb and Khawaja showed his experience in his well constructed 68. Baulcs [Baulcomb] and Nilly [Modwhadia] saw the side home brilliantly and showed the value of a really experienced middle order. To keep such a powerful batting side to 260 was a great effort and all the bowlers played their part.

"I would say this is the best victory we have had under my captaincy.

High hopes for Kai after Essex Champs

THE circuit used by mountain bikers during the London Olympics was the destination for Harlow's talented young athletes who competed in the Essex Primary Schools Cross Country 2013 Championships at Hadleigh Park near Southend.

The event had been postponed due to snow earlier this year.

The Harlow Athletic Club athletes were representing their local schools, following qualification at the Harlow Schools Cross Country Championships.

Athletes had to finish on the podium or be part of a winning school team to be eligible to run at these championships.

"All of our athletes performed fantastically but the run of the day was had by Year 5 Latton Green School student Kai Boggon who out-sprinted a quality field to be crowned county cross country champion. Kai is a great, emerging talent who trains with Harlow AC and Essex county U-13 athlete Lewis Harknett," said his club coach Paul Bailey.

Kai is also coached by Alan Price.

In the Year 5 girls race Kelly Down (daughter of Harlow AC and England international veteran athlete Steve Down) finished second with Charlotte Pratt third, both losing out in a very close sprint finish.

There were roughly 100 athletes in each race and the Year 3 and 4 races were 1,000m and the Years 5 and 6 races were 1,600m.

Other results for Harlow Athletic Club members were (schools in brackets):-

Year 3 Girls: Lydia Harvey (Sheering) 18th.

Year 4 Girls: Mackenzie Canfield 24th, Ellen Savage 56th, Katie Brennan 83rd (all Henry Moore).

Year 4 Boys: Oliver Carter (Henry Moore) 46th, Alfie Collier (Henry Moore) 47th.

Year 5 Girls: Kelly Down (Tany's Dell) 2nd, Charlotte Pratt (Henry Moore) 3rd, Savannah Sirkett (Henry Moore) 36th.

Year 5 Boys: Charlie Powell (Henry Moore) 18th.

Year 6 Girls: Rosie Bennett (Jerounds) 36th, Katie Coles (Henry Moore) 42nd.

Jephcott unhindered by horrific accident

JAMIE Jephcott recovered from a nasty chainsaw accident to compete in Harlow Athletic Club men's opening match of the Southern League season at Luton.

The team, promoted to division one east last year, only had nine athletes due to injuries and work commitments.

Jephcott bravely competed despite the accident.

Team captain Dave Bauer explained: "Jamie was cutting tree branches off using a petrol chainsaw and it ended up nearly removing his hands!

"He had many stitches to both his forearms. He was very lucky not to lose fingers or his hands. It looks terrible."

Jephcott did both relays and an extra 1,500 metres event.

Harlow were also without team manager Catherine Bauer, who was recovering in hospital after breathing problems.

Seventeen-year-old Phil Heinen gamely ran the 5km race for the first time, while Carl Paxman filled in for the 1,500m and veteran athlete Ian Smith ensured Harlow had a team for the 400m relay.

For much of the day Harlow were clearly last as the scores were announced – right up to almost the final event – but, thanks to athletes doing extra events, the team managed to nick fifth place by two points – and beat Essex rivals Thurrock.

Bauer said: "Our team spirit is second to none, some of these events the athletes took upon themselves without any provocation from myself as I was busy competing.

"We missed our team manager, Catherine Bauer, as she is still in hospital so it really was all hands to the pumps!"

Harry Gough (18) competed in the 800m and the 400m for the first time for the club and acquitted himself very well in tough events.

Dave Bauer gained big season's bests in the shot put (now ranked 13th in the UK M45 category), hammer (now ranked 4th in the UK M45) and the discus (now ranked 2nd in the UK M45).

Smith also got a season's best in the 200m.

Glen Paxman and team-mates were far from fit and suffering injury but it did not stop them competing.

"We expect a far stronger team for our next match at Gillingham, Kent on the 18th of May. There is no reason why we can't achieve a third place spot in the match as we had no athletes in either of the hurdles races or the steeplechase which could have lost the team 10 points per event," Bauer added.

"Special thanks also go to Paul Avontuur, Nat Fisher and Chris Clark who helped out with the officiating duties in Catherine's absence."

Harlow AC selected results: B-string high jump 1st, Phil Heinen (1.55m); A pole vault 3rd, Glen Paxman (2.60m); B pole vault 3rd, Carl Snook (1.00m); B long jump 3rd, Carl Paxman (5.57m); A triple jump 3rd, Glen Paxman (11.93m); B triple jump 3rd, Carl Paxman (11.07m); B shot put 3rd (9.65m); A discus 1st, Dave Bauer (36.88m); B discus 3rd Chris Clark (23.77m).

Overall result: Bexley 231 points; Luton 194.5; Medway & Maidstone 149; Milton Keynes 139.5; Harlow 109.5; Thurrock 107.5.

Schools into Essex gymnastics finals

LATTON Green and St Nicholas triumphed in a Harlow inter-schools gymnastics tournament.

Some 96 gymnasts comprising 16 school teams arrived at Mark Hall Sportscentre to compete in the annual Harlow Key Steps Gymnastics Festival.

The teams were competing in two age groups – Years 1 and 2 (nine teams) and Years 3 and 4 (seven teams).

The teams all performed group and individual gymnastic routines and every gymnast completed a solo vault gaining scores for their teams.

St Nicholas took the Year 1 and 2 title and Latton Green triumphed in the Year 3 and 4 section.

Latton Green has now won at least one of the team events at this competition for the last four years.

Both the winning teams, plus teams who finished second (Latton Green Years 1 and 2, Abbotswold and St Luke's Years 3 and 4) will now represent Harlow Schools at the county competition which is taking place at Basildon Sporting Village on May 22.

The following schools entered the Harlow stage: Abbotswold, Holy Cross, Latton Green, St Lukes, St Nicholas and Water Lane.

George Gardiner, Harlow Schools Sports Partnership manager, said: "It was great to see over 100 very young children competing against each other in an Olympic sport in such good spirit.

"Everyone who took part deserves a massive thank you for making the day such a success, with particular mention to the support the event gets from Epping Gymnastics Club who ran it and to Harlow College who supported the event with sports leaders."

GB ace Osagie will not change track!

BY ALAN SCOTT

ANDREW Osagie is refusing to change his race tactics as he attempts to retain his crown as Great Britain's top 800metre runner from rival Michael Rimmer.

The Harlow Athletic Club member competed in Doha in the opening IAAF Diamond League meeting of the season, when the world's finest athletes met in Qatar on Friday.

Osagie, a finalist in the Olympic Games 800m final in London last year, was eighth in the final in Doha, which was televised by the BBC.

The 25-year-old, of Northbrooks in Harlow, clocked 1 minute 45.41 seconds, a reasonable time for such an early stage of the season but still quite far behind winner and World Record holder David Rudisha, while Rimmer continues to hold an Indian sign over Osagie and finished two places ahead of the former Burnt Mill School student.

Osagie tweeted afterwards: "Even when I shouldn't win I think I can and would always rather race that way."

"Sometimes the master plan can be reached with long strides and sometimes it takes baby steps! Tonight was baby steps lol."

"Thanks for all the messages you guys and girls are pretty cool, just as a note the #OsagieBoom is getting a revamp so should be ready soon!"

Olympic champion Rudisha won the race in a world leading 1:43.87. Rimmer finished sixth in his first outdoor appearance of the summer with a time of 1:44.97.

Osagie is now targeting two major competitions in June in successive weekends.

He will hope to defend his title at the Sainsbury's British Championships on June 29-30.

But before this event he will bid for a spot in the Great Britain team for the European Team Championships at Gateshead on June 22-23.

Osagie, who missed out on a place in the GB team for the European Indoor Championships in Gothenburg in Sweden earlier this year to Rimmer, knows he must improve by at least a second if he is to get back his title of top dog in the UK.

Cunningham's quest to take club out of mire

TOM Cunningham has indicated that changes are set to be made as he seeks to halt Harlow Town FC's financial decay.

Cunningham came back to the Barrows Farm club in early 2010 alongside business partner John Barnett to try and turn its parlous business affairs around.

It has proved to be tough as crowds have dipped to barely above 100 this past season with Harlow enduring a terrible campaign.

Previously Cunningham, right, had been at Harlow between July 2003 and April 2008 with various roles including director of football. During his first spell the club moved from the old Sportcentre to its new ground at Elizabeth Way in October 2006.

Cunningham said: "When the club moved from the Sportcentre to the stadium the overheads have gone up five times as much."

"The previous owners did not factor in [take account of] the increased costs."

He added: "We still have the same amount of people coming and that does not work. The biggest aim of the football club is to change that."

Cunningham would not disclose his plans at this stage for raising revenue but is committed to the club.

He said: "Whatever people think of me my concern is the success of the football club."

The fortunes of Harlow would be even worse if they had to pay a rent at their ground. It is rent-free until 2016.

"We have not been in a position to pay a rent. In three years time we are going to have to pay a rent," Cunningham warned.

Rams veteran in World Record bid

RAMS rugby veteran Francis Brown, right, will be part of a team attempting to break the World Record for the longest game of rugby union.

This will take place at Welford Road, the home of Leicester Tigers, on May 31.

Brown, the director of rugby and PE teacher at St Nicholas in Old Harlow, is a rugby international for India and is Harlow Rugby Club's Youth Development Officer.

He will line up for Scotty's Little Soldiers team, which will take on an Armed Forces select team.

The teams will attempt to play for more than 24 hours.

Tickets are £5. Brown said: "Why don't you come down to Welford Road and show your support to Scotty's Little Soldiers and help the children of our fallen heroes?"

Scotty's Little Soldiers is dedicated to supporting the children of men and women killed in action while serving with the British Armed Forces.
